Description

My goat's name is Rudolph he is a Boer goat. My dad named him Rudolph because when he dehorned him the blood from his horns gave him a red nose. I fought with my father about the name but the name stuck. He enjoys running and jumping in the field and on our dirt hill with his brother Camo who is also his pen mate. Rudolph is also crazy about eating the licorice flavored goat treats and getting brushed on the goat stand. He was born on February 15, 2020, we brought him home on May 5, 2020 at 45 pounds. I learned how to correctly walk, feed, stand, and groom my goats. To get my goats used to me I read books to them. The books I read to them I only read with them like the Shiloh series and Misty of Chincoteague.
