Description

This is my first year raising goats and I have learned so much and have had so much fun! I was not sure if I should raise goats this year knowing that the fair could be canceled due to COVID 19. I took a huge risk but decided to go forward because I have waited many years to accomplish the goat project and I did not want to wait another year. Someday I want to become a veterinarian for large farm animals and I thought that raising goats for 4-H was a great place to start. I am excited to continue to raise goats for my 4-H projects in the future. Fender (my boar goat) has the sweetest personality and has always been the one to listen to my signals. He is leashed trained and has gone on walks/ runs since the day I brought him home. He has gotten the attention of all my neighbors who are amazed at how obedient and friendly he is.
