Description

Hello, my name is Shattuck T. Springer, I have been raising market turkeys for the last 3 years. The tom I am auctioning is Joseph, named after Chief Joseph of the Blackfoot Native American tribe-turkeys are native to North America so I thought it fitting. The type of breed my turkey is is a broad-breasted bronze. They were bred in the 1700s from a European strain specifically for meat production. I walk my turkeys using a stick -it's easier than carrying them because you can guide them. My turkeys are extremely docile and easy for me to deal with. I feed my birds a high protein poultry feed and like to finish them off by adding a little corn to their diet. This gives them a nice little bit of fat and makes their meat juicier. Joseph was born and arrived the week we began the quarantine lockdown and he's now ready for your Thanksgiving dinner!
