Description

Meet my pig, Pumba. He is a Spotted Poland China. We purchased him from a breeder in Lubbock. He weighs about 190 pounds.

Pumba loves marshmallows and will eat them out of your hand. He gets really excited when we walk him and he likes to run in the practice pen. He figured out how to hold the nipple on the water trough and make a big mud hole. He is usually covered in mud from head to toe when we go to feed him. He has taught me that pigs take a lot of patience to get them gentle. When we first brought him home he would squeal and run, but after scratching him when I fed him he became so much more used to me.

Pumba taught me a lot about hard work and persistence. He was scared of me at first, but I stuck with him and we trust each other now!
