Description

Howdy! My name is Callie Dorsett and I am currently a sophomore at Nacogdoches High School. This year I raised a Chester pig weighing in at 265 pounds for Houston. While I am disappointed that Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo was cancelled, I am amazed at how the livestock industry has come together to give kids the opportunity to sell the projects they worked hard on. This isn't my first rodeo when it comes to showing pigs, but it might've been one of my more difficult experiences. My pig was a little sassafras from the start and decided that as soon as his pen was opened he would bolt away from me going lightning speed. With lots of afternoon walks and Skittles for treats, I finally got him walking well. I learned several things from this project, one of them being that you have to have patience because not all animals work and learn at the same speed. Another exciting thing I learned is that you can't trust my dad to take videos of me walking my pig. The last video we filmed for my breeder we enlisted my dad as the videographer. Let's just say that will be his last time videoing my animals. I included an example of his professional video in my lot documents so that y'all understand what I'm talking about. Looking forward to HLSR 2021 with another pig in tow!
