What do sheep do on sunny days? They have a baa-baa-cue!

Hello, my name is Jaylene Brown and I am 15 years young. This is my 3rd year in the Live Oak 4-H Sheep Project. This year I worked really hard to make sure that my market lamb is going to make someone the best leg of lamb and lamb chops to bar-b-que. I decided to raise two market lambs this year. The first to be shown and sold at San Joaquin AgFest and the second to be shown at California Youth Ag Expo (CYAE) and then sold to a private buyer. My first lamb is Collin, a Hampshire cross. His favorite thing to do is drink fresh cold water every morning when I dump and refill his bucket. My second lamb is Finn, a natural colored crossbred. His favorite thing to do is run and jump playing with my other lambs in the pasture. I got both of them in January and have spent countless hours caring for and training my lambs. I have big goals for my lamb project including winning showmanship and placing in the top 5 in my market class. I have worked really hard to accomplish these goals. I weigh their grain everyday for accuracy and every Monday I weigh both of my lambs. This is to help keep them on track weight wise. I also make sure I exercise and work both of my lambs a minimum of 4 days a week. This is to help train them for show so I will have a chance at doing well in showmanship. In addition to my market lamb project I also will be exhibiting my breeding sheep, breeding goats, dog, rabbit and cavy in AgFest this year. I even stepped out of my comfort zone and have entered some horticulture and floriculture exhibits as well. I am looking forward to seeing my hard work pay off in the showings this year and would really appreciate any support you or your company can offer me in support of my projects!
