Description

Hi my name is Cheyanne Griffith and this is my second year showing pigs with New Jerusalem 4-H. This year I am raising, showing, and selling a cross breed gilt pig. My pig's name is Trouble. I purchased her Saturday February 6, 2021. When I purchased her she weighed 43 pounds and now she currently weighs 231. She should weigh around 280 by the time Agfest starts.

Everyday for the past 4 months I have given her fresh water and food. I have also worked her and cleaned her pen everyday. I spent time with her for around two weeks to get used to me before I started working her. After those two weeks I started to work with her in straight lines and big circles. When I work her I try to keep her head up and have her walk straight. At first it is frustrating when you work with them, because they're new to the training but after a while it gets easier. During the past couple of years showing a pig I realized that raising an animal is a lot of responsibility. While raising an animal you can not forget to give them water or forget to feed them. In the summertime I have to spray my pig with a nice mist to keep her cool during the hot weather. I also have to put sunscreen on her so she doesn't burn when it is hot.
