Description

Hello,

My name is Elliot (Eli) Sandoval, and this is my first year of raising a farm animal, the animal that I am raising is a pig, the name I gave her is Goober. I am 17 years old and I am also a foster youth in Chris Livengood's home, who is the AG teacher at Western Ranch High School, that is very open, caring, and loving. They are my first foster home and they will be adopting me. What I have learned in my first year is learning how to be more responsible and learning how to take care of an animal that is hurt. I have also learned how to make sure that my pig is in a good environment. Even though this year has been tough on me, I have been able to work through it and make sure that I am there for my pig.

Thank you and I hope you have an amazing day.
