Description

Hello, my name is Trinity Hernandez. The pig I am selling is named Chicharron and her nickname is Cheech. I am a freshman at San Joaquin Delta College and this is my last year of being eligible to show for Manteca High School. I have raised market hogs for 4 years; all my past hogs were crossbreeds. I like crossbreeds because the idea of crossing breeds is to acquire the best traits from the chosen breeds. Cheech is a crossbreed from Hampshire and Yorkshire so she could have lean meat from her Hampshire side as well as produce a lot of bacon from being Yorkshire. I try to walk my pig as much as I can; I clean her pen twice a day so she has a sanitary environment. Cheech eats around 6 pounds a day along with some treats here and there such as apples, strawberries, carrots, and the occasional marshmallow. I also like to keep her calm as possible since stress can have a negative effect on the meat. I pride myself on ensuring that I raise pigs that produce high-quality meat.
