Description

My name is Dominic Bellerdine and this is my very first year in 4H.

My market goat is Wayne and I am so proud to be showing him to potential buyers at the El Paso County Fair and Jr Livestock Sale auction this year.

Wayne and I have grown a lot since first starting with him April 1. It seems as if it has taken him (and his brother Garth), such a long time to start responding to us during our work time with them. They were quite resistant at first but have slowly grown to love our time working together.

Wayne is a big boy and is quite strong. He is gentle during walks and runs together and is learning how to brace well (I am hoping I am, too!). He is always looking for food and has always been very motivated when there is a meal coming up. He is curious and friendly, and I really have grown in many skill areas with him this spring.

About me: I am entering high school next year, and in my first year in 4H, am also involved in shooting sports. I have been working at my parents' place of business for a couple of years, am really interested in cooking as a career, and am currently a blue belt in kung fu. My goal is to make brown belt by February 2022. In and outside of school, I am involved in drama (for 5+ years and in Stars Theater Company) and even started the Dungeons and Dragons club that became quite popular within the year. It will be continued next year and into my high school years. I'm hoping that I will leave a legacy behind! I am interested in student government and getting into leadership roles in 4H in the future.

I am really happy to show what Wayne and I have done together in the past few months and am asking for your bid on my amazing market goat!

Thank you for supporting 4H!

Dominic
