I would like to introduce Piggy Smalls, a blue butted Gilt that is anything but small. She weighed in at 258 on March 6 and has the personality to back the pounds. This is my first pig that is mostly white so she was a learning experience majorly for skin and hair. We were a little worried about her weight gain for a few weeks due to her bonding with a new barrow that was penned next to her. Once we got her moved, she was back to her normal self. She loves to have her belly rubbed and wags her tail like a puppy. She is an excellent showmanship pig and even brought me my first grand champion swine buckle. She has awarded me and my little brother with numerous showmanship buckles, countless ribbons, chairs and gourmet bag. She has led the way and started a life long of showing for my family!
