Description

Hello my name is Lexi Berger and this is my first year showing goats. It has been an extremely fun year filled with new challenges and lots of great memories. My goats name is willie and he has been such a fun addition to my crazy farm. I have tried most of the large animal species but goat has definitely been a super fun but also very challenging project. This is going to be my last year at the North Idaho State fair and I couldn't have picked a better goat to finish the year off with. I have recently graduated highschool at Coeur d'Alene Highschool and finished my Associates degree at North Idaho College at the same time. I am proud to say I am going to Washington State College to pursure my love for animals as a large animal veterinarian, the money I get from Willie will go towards my future plans. Thank you!
