Description

This Lamb is my Natural Colored Market Lamb. He is a mix of Suffolk and Hampshire. His name is Spade. Spade is a medium sized, stout lamb. He is timid but once you get to know him he is friendly. Spade was fed an 18% protein show lamb feed, he started out eating around two pounds a day to now eating about five pounds a day! He has access to around half an acre of lush green pasture everyday! He has been raised in clean conditions with his stalled being cleaned and tidied regularly. In the pasture he plays and roams around his three other sheep friends! He also eats Alfalfa as well as coastal hay. With his feed being 18% protein and 3.50% fat it gives him a nice fat to muscle ratio. He gains around half a pound a day and currently (3 weeks out from fair) weighs around 140 pounds. He is eight months old. Spade would make a very nice pet or stock your freezer full!
