Description

Meet my blue butt Yorkshire cross hog, Carnitas. I purchased her in May from a well-known breeder in Mt Airy, Hough show pigs. When we first purchased Carnitas she was less than 40 pounds. Carnitas was a little scared of me and other people when they walked by. When I fed her, I would sit down with her. I then began taking her out of her stall often on walks. Carnitas loves to be scratched on her belly and now greets me at the door. I also started to give her some treats. She loves marshmallows and animal crackers. But her regular diet is 18% protein show feed. She gets fed twice a day every day. Carnitas now weighs over 230 pounds. Even though she is so big and strong she will still lay down next to me in her stall. Don't worry her stall is very clean. It is cleaned every day. Carnitas was raised with her sister, Wilbur. They love to be together and get upset if they get separated. Carnitas has had a great life and has been accused of being spoiled. She has been a really fun pig to raise, even though she is loud and talks back a lot.
