Description

This year I have a CFISD Livestock Show Project which is a Jr. Market Yorkshire. This being my first project has taught me the daily importance of proper animal care and the importance of proper feeding plans. I wake up early every morning at 5:00 a.m. prepping feed/ feeding plans, along with traveling, cleaning and training. My one-two hours of work in the evenings have taught me the importance of respect and responsibility. Alfredo is my Jr. Market Yorkshire weighed in at 190lbs with less than a few days until show. He is a quality Yorkshire with a long lean back, a stout and strong front end and with an overall complete stout skeleton structure. I was grateful this year to have the 133rd pick in our Swine Draw being able to pick Alfredo, which was a pure blessing. From our first time working together in and out of the arena, he amazed me with his early age and show presence. Ha has been an all-around great show pig this season.

This year I have learned a lot from not only Alfredo, but from my friends and peers who have raised swine in the past. They as well have taught me the intemperance of proper care and feed for a pig but also the bond that is created with such an animal. He is such a gentle and large Yorkshire; he has also been used to help others with learning something new and take that knowledge gained and put it towards their pigs and become that much better. We have weathered hot and cold temperatures at the barn, but with our feed plan this year, also with a pristine clean stall, I was able to keep him in great health.

I have had a great and successful year with Alfredo and I am grateful for all the opportunists he has given to me to grow with him and become that much better. I hope when choosing your choice for the best Jr.Market Yorkshire, that you consider Alfredo for your Auction Choice. It would be a blessing if you could also consider me for an add-on for my future projects next year.

Best regards,

Cole Beaver
