Description

I am Jack Hampton, a senior at Anahuac High School. I began showing cattle at YPS as a kindergarten and was fortunate enough to make the auction every year. I learned many lessons along the way.

1. Get off the ground after being drugged through the dirt. Brush it off, dry my tears and finish the show. (This was in first grade).
2. The difference between a promising calf and a cull and how to feed, groom, and show to its potential.
3. The reward of winning after long hours of hard work. My proudest being showmanship.
4. Along with winning, the ability to accept disappointment. This year being my biggest disappointment in not being able to show. I had big hopes of this being my best year ever.

5. But in the big picture I have learned a lot about agriculture and livestock. These are lessons that I can carry with me into my future where I have already been accepted to Sam Houston University

Thanks to all who have supported me throughout the years. My goals are to get a degree in Construction Management and to come back to YPS to support and give back for many years to come.
