Description

I will be a junior this upcoming year with uncertainty about my college choice, one thing remains clear, my passion for pursuing an animal science degree. Guided by my experiences with Ryn, my Hampshire lamb, I am eager to embark on my next project with another lamb. Through the process of raising and showing lambs, I've garnered invaluable lessons in responsibility, patience, and the significance of hard work. Each day, tending to tasks such as feeding, watering, cleaning, grooming, and exercising my lamb has seamlessly integrated into my routine. Moreover, caring for Ryn has enlightened me on the importance of providing a balanced diet, and showering her with love and attention to ensure her well-being. Witnessing the bond we've cultivated and the progress we've achieved together is significant.
