Description

My name is Landyn Teter and this is my 10th and final year in 4-H. I am currently studying at Colorado Mesa University where I am majoring in Elementary Education. I have been showing cattle for many years and with my family have raised several market steers and heifers. I have chosen to show my own homegrown cattle this year as it is my final year, and I wanted to use my producer project. This means that I have raised the cow as well as the herd bull to produce my market steer. My work with this project started years ago with studying genetics and purchasing cows and a herd bull for our family herd to produce well structured and well finished market beef. This calf was born on our place in Rifle, and I have watched him grow and finish to what you are buying today. Only the best feed and care have gone into my project including hours of working with my beef. I look forward to seeing you at the Garfield County Junior Livestock Sale and encourage you to visit our family display where we can talk about our family cattle.
