Description

Hello there, it's almost fair time! My name is Lauren Rector and this is my final year in 4-H as I will be headed off to college this fall at Western Nebraska Community College to major in Elementary Education. I have been a member of the Rural Rustlers 4-H Club in Elbert County for ten years. I have also served on the Elbert County Youth Council for the past three years.

This year I am taking three projects to the Elbert County Fair. My 1st and biggest project is my market beef projects, Duke and Oliver! My 2nd project is baking a pound cake, and my 3rd project is woodworking – Hoosier cabinet for my mom's kitchen. My last nine years have been successful, and the skills I have learned through 4-H have been skills that I will use the rest of my life.

Now let's talk about Farm to Table! My steer Duke is right off of our ranch! At Triple R Farms we are proud of the beef that we raise and I know I am proud to be able to show a high quality beef steer. I found Duke by going out with my Dad and sister during feeding time on the weekends. From day one this steer would follow me around, right at my back pocket, just waiting for his grain. If you happen to be the winning bid on this steer on Saturday, August 2nd, you will have some very tasty beef to fill up your freezer!
