Description

My name is Tristan Cardey. I am a sophomore at Atwater High School. I am 15 years old and this is my seventh year raising a market goat. I have a breeding goat project that I have been growing since I was ten years old. I have 17 does and 1 breeding buck. I was recently elected as the new Treasurer for Atwater FFA. I was also on the Farm Business Management team this past year. I am a teen leader for the archery project with Lancers 4-H and I am a camp staff member for 4-H Camp. I am on the Atwater Water Polo team as well. My future career goals are to attend college and pursue a career in either Ag Mechanics or Ag Communications.

My goat, Nugget is deep and wide and he has a lot of muscle. He currently weighs around 90 lbs. He is a homebred wether that was born in early January. I'm happy that I have a wether that came from my own herd because I am happy at how I have been able to grow my breeding project over the past several years. I have been feeding my wether twice each day and making sure that he gets the proper minerals so that he stays healthy. I buy his grain with my own money that I have earned by doing chores and from other projects, such as rabbits.
