Description

My name is Colton Neal, this is my third year in 4-H having a market swine project. I just graduated 8th grade from Stone Ridge Christian. This year my market hog is a hampshire barrow named Joe. My favorite part about my project is learning the pigs different personalities and spending time with them to learn to work together and trust each other. My favorite part about 4-H is making new friends through our chapter group and the fair and continuing to learn and challenge myself and also learn more about the industry. I will continue to show hogs in FFA next year and look forward to a new experience.
