Description

I spent several weeks visiting different breeders to find a high quality lamb. I made sure I had a safe space on land to set up a pin for my lamb. This land had over one acre of open field for my lamb to enjoy. I then spent the next three months waking early every morning before school to drive out to my lamb to feed him. Every afternoon I would return to exercise, train, and feed my lamb. I monitored his health and growth and kept him well groomed. This project taught me leadership and responsibility skills. I believe I have raised a very happy, high quality lamb.
